Pre-Opening Hotel Disinfection

ULV Disinfection Fogging is an ideal solution both for combating airborne pathogens, as well as disinfecting large areas in reduced time with minimum disruption. The treatment produces micro-droplets of disinfectant that float in the air for around 10 minutes after application, covering hard to reach and inaccessible areas that conventional cleaning or spraying can miss.

The Rentokil Pest Control fogging service, which they supply in conjunction with TOUCH-POINT surface cleaning, will ensure your premises are as infection-free as possible giving you complete reassurance prior to reopening.

Quality in Tourism Accreditation Scheme

Enhance customer safety AND confidence through Safe, Clean & Legal accreditation. It's the only accreditation in the UK developed with Environmental Health Officers through the Quality in Tourism Primary Authority partnership. And as an industry-recognised standard of hygiene and cleanliness, it also provides both vital reassurance to consumers and peace of mind for the proprietor.

Additional benefits include:

- Guidance notes for hotels and venues covering each industry segment
- Cleaning protocol information (including the latest COVID-19 measures)
- Templates for risk assessment completion and scoring of risk levels
- Remote support in completing risk assessments and review of paperwork
- Assessor property visit and subsequent report
- Digital accolade and certificate

Between £300 and £720 dependent upon hotel size

Pre-opening Hotel Deep Clean

The build-up of general grime and obvious dirt may usually be removed by your daily cleaning routine. However, after being unattended for such a long period, you may need to go above and beyond your usual hygiene protocols and enlist the services of a professional cleaning company. Omni Facilities Management can provide a professional deep cleaning service for your premises to ensure the highest levels of cleanliness for your returning staff and guests.

An example bedroom deep clean includes:

- Deep cleaning of bedroom - all hard surfaces i.e. chairs and tabletops, window frames, dressing tables, bedside tables, wardrobes, telephones, remote controls, door handles, light switches, in room safe, iron and headboards (if applicable)
- Deep cleaning of bathroom - all areas within the bathroom, i.e. walls, ceiling, inside surface of taps, handles, towel rails, waste bins and around the cistern of the toilet
- Mattress turning and steam cleaning
- Descaling of kettles and tea and coffee facilities / shower heads
- Steam clean or change Curtains and upholstery cleaning
- Carpet spot cleaning - working around the furniture
- Carpet cleaning full room - removal and replacement of furniture during full clean

From £30 per room

Hotel Security During and Post Closure

Worker protection is a key priority for all good employers. However, many don't always consider the unique set of circumstances that people can face if an incident occurs when they're working alone. Social and environmental hazards, like physical abuse, or trips and falls, are dramatically increased for lone workers, as they don't have immediate access to usual avenues of support.

The Arc Angel from SeftonArc is a discreet personal safety device that provides a monitoring and alert system to ensure these risks are minimised. It comes in two forms; a small device that can be attached to a lanyard or set of keys, and the Arc Angel Watch – both of which include a fall sensor for peace of mind for both you and your staff.

Legionella Controls and Pre-opening

Following this unprecedented period of lockdown, the management of Legionella bacteria in water systems is of even greater importance. Closure of buildings completely, or in part, can lead to the growth and proliferation of Legionella bacteria in water systems and associated equipment. Therefore, we've put together an advice sheet that features guidance on the steps you can take to avoid the development of such water-borne pathogens.

For additional peace of mind, Beacon has secured the following discounted rates for related services from Health and Safety experts Encompass Safety Solutions.

Site Visit & Legionella Risk Assessment File

- Full on-site assessment report
- Legionella Method Statement
- HSE Approved Code of Practice L8
- Water Checks documentation

Re-opening Food Service Solutions

Upon reopening, room service will play a vital role in helping customers feel safe while away from their homes. As the food is taken directly to the customer's room, contact points are minimised and they can feel comfortable eating in a socially distanced area away from other guests. In partnership with Beacon, Bidfood has produced a wide variety of different menus, to suit all budgets, that can be produced in-house with limited resource. Ranging from traditional favourites such as burgers, fish and chips, and pizzas, through to light bites, salads and delicious treats for those with a sweet tooth. There are also tasty options to please vegans, vegetarians and customers with a gluten intolerance too.

Click the links to see what's on offer. The dinner menus also include our recommended retail price so you can get an idea of the different price ranges.

To book a Zoom call to find out:

- The simplicity of producing the dishes
- The specification of each dish and its costing
- The gross profit produced by each menu
- The allergen support through Bidfood Direct

Kitchen Pre-opening

Your kitchens may have been out of action for a little while but soon they will become a hive of activity again, as you begin to welcome guests back to your premises. Specialist foodservice facility providers Space Group UK have put together a useful advice sheet with a few suggestions on the types of equipment which may require servicing or maintenance works following such a prolonged period of downtime.

If any of your catering or refrigeration equipment requires a reactive service prior to your opening date, Space Group can supply this through a network of specialist engineers centrally controlled through their service office.

- Space Service division is available 24/7, 365 days a year
- No sign-up fees or management fees for becoming a Space Service customer
- Pre-negotiated cost-effective rates with some of the best service providers across the UK
- The engineer that they send will have specialist knowledge of your particular type of equipment.
- All costs are clear and transparent with a simple pricing matrix

Maintenance During Lockdown

As your re-opening date draws nearer, it's worth considering whether you've been following the most effective health and safety routine during your business' temporary closure. In conjunction with ThruFM, Beacon has compiled a checklist that includes suggestions on the recommended actions that should have been carried out during lockdown. If you've not seen this yet, it's still worth reviewing to ensure you're in the best position to open safely when restrictions have been lifted.

If you have any concerns about re-opening your hotel safely, ThruFM can provide a quote for putting a bespoke re-opening plan together for you. Speak to them directly for more information using the details below.

Beond

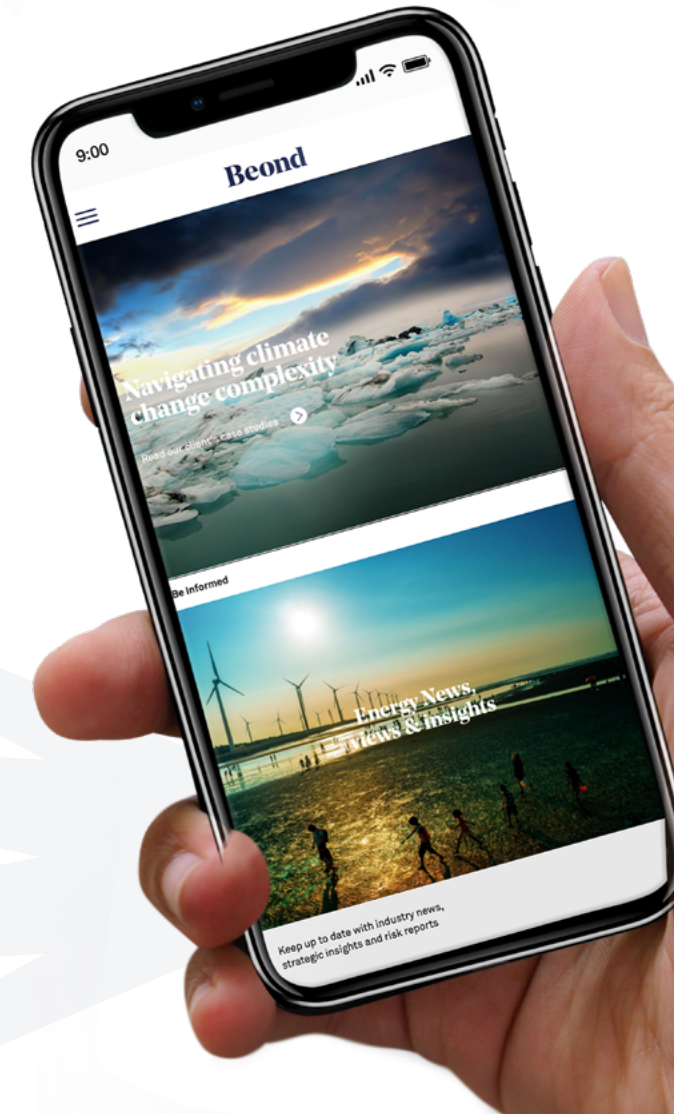

Due to energy prices being at a 13-year low, zero-carbon consultants Beond can currently target 53% gas savings and 27% electricity savings for energy contracts due to renew over the next 24 months. These figures have recently been achieved for a Best Western hotel, with Beond saving them over £50K by taking advantage of these market lows while securing the greenest energy possible.

Their innovative reverse e-auction software provides:

- Up to 15 suppliers competing to supply electricity and gas to your business
- Full transparency via an online log-on for homeworkers
- Significant savings due to the energy markets being in free-fall during this period of reduced demand

To see whether similar savings can be secured for your business, or to get support on navigating the complexities of the energy market, Beond has set up an advice line specifically for Beacon members, which is 07769 972189. Alternatively, request a callback using the button below.
